New! CEI and community partners selected to participate in national jail-based opioid treatment effort

Below is a recent press release announcing the selection of a coalition, including the CMH Authority of Clinton, Eaton, and Ingham Counties (CEI), to participate in a national jail-based opioid use treatment effort.

Ingham County today announced it has been selected to participate in a national program to expand medication assisted treatment for opioid use disorder in jails.

The county will receive expert guidance on how to overcome barriers to providing opioid treatment and scholarships for staff members to attend trainings in Washington, D.C. Experts will work with jail officials to create treatment guidelines, manage administration of the medications, and educate jail staff about addiction. The Ingham County team includes six people representing: the Ingham County Health Department, the Ingham County Sheriff’s Department, the Ingham County Prosecutor’s Office, the 55th District Court-Probation and Treatment Courts Division, and Community Mental Health of Clinton, Eaton & Ingham Counties.
"With the expertise, dedication and resources of the Ingham County team, I know we will bring home and implement real change to improve the health of inmates and those released back into the community," said Linda S. Vail, Ingham County Health Officer.

Ingham County will also develop a plan with local health care officials to ensure people can access treatment after they are released. The program is a joint initiative of the U.S. Department of Justice, Bureau of Justice Assistance, and Arnold Ventures, a national philanthropy headquartered in Houston, Texas. In addition to supporting efforts to expand treatment for opioid use disorder, the philanthropy is also working to improve the criminal justice system through reforms to policing, pretrial, probation and parole, and reintegration services.

Jails are at the epicenter of the opioid crisis. Tens of thousands of people with opioid use disorder pass through the corrections system each year. But only about 30 of the 3,200 jails in the country offer the opioid medications methadone and buprenorphine, which have been shown by research to be the most effective forms of treatment. Most individuals instead go through detoxification, which lowers tolerance levels without curbing opioid cravings and dramatically raises the risk that people will overdose after they are released.

Ingham County is one of 15 jurisdictions that will participate in the Planning Initiative to Build Bridges Between Jail and Community-Based Treatment for Opioid Use Disorder. The selected sites span the country from Lewis and Clark County Detention Center in Helena, Montana, which has 80 beds, to Cook County Jail in Chicago, the largest single-site jail in the United States.

News from Our Preferred Corporate Partners:

myStrength: Digital Solution for Behavioral Healthcare Staff Shortages and Rampant Consumer Demand

Across the U.S., a staggering 77% of counties have underserved behavioral healthcare needs. And within the next six years, providers will face an estimated shortage of more than 250,000 behavioral health professionals. Lack of access to care is culminating in a crisis for the U.S. healthcare system resulting in poor outcomes, over-dependence on emergency departments, lower quality of care, reduced consumer satisfaction, and increasing costs.

Technology can help. Staff are increasingly stressed due to heavy caseload burdens and administrative work demands. Digital solutions can ease these burdens by helping meet clinical patient needs, especially those with less acute issues. myStrength's scalable, HIPAA-compliant digital behavioral health platform offers evidence-based tools that extend reach and allow clinicians to work at the high-end of their licensure by focusing on the needs of the most needy and vulnerable patients. Offering bridge support between treatment sessions, myStrength's mobile and web self-care tools are proven to drive improved outcomes and cost savings.

New! Michigan health providers must enroll in system by Oct. 1 for Medicaid patients to be able to fill prescriptions
Health care providers are facing an important upcoming enrollment deadline that is necessary for their Medicaid beneficiaries to be able to continue to fill prescriptions.
To meet federal requirements, providers who prescribe medications to Medicaid beneficiaries must enroll by Oct. 1, 2019, in the Community Health Automated Medicaid Processing System (CHAMPS) – the state’s online Medicaid enrollment system. Under federal requirements, the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services (MDHHS) will prohibit payment for prescription drug claims written by any provider who is not enrolled in CHAMPS.
“At MDHHS we want to make sure that Michigan’s Medicaid beneficiaries are able to continue to fill the prescriptions they need to be healthy,” said Kate Massey, MDHHS deputy director for Medical Services Administration and Medicaid director. “We encourage providers to register in CHAMPS as soon as possible to avoid any interruptions in patients’ drug therapy.”
The federal Affordable Care Act and the 21st Century Cures Act require prescribers to enroll. The purpose of this requirement is to protect beneficiaries by strengthening program integrity and care quality. The requirement applies to all providers who prescribe drugs – including medical residents.
Providers who want information about the enrollment process and how to get started can reference MSA 19-20 or visit Michigan.gov/MedicaidProviders and click on the “Provider Enrollment” box. Providers who have questions on the process can call MDHHS Provider Support at 800-292-2550.

New! CMS provides guidance on electronic visit verification

The Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) continues to provide technical assistance to states and other stakeholders to ensure compliance with the 21st Century Cures Act. The Agency has received numerous requests from states and stakeholders to clarify certain electronic visit verification (EVV) requirements.

Recently CMS issued an Informational Bulletin that includes a set of frequently asked questions to provide guidance regarding the applicability of EVV requirements to beneficiaries with live-in caregivers, the provision of durable medical equipment, and services rendered partially in the home and partially in the community, where requirement may create privacy concerns.

This guidance also affirms that web-based electronic timesheets alone are not sufficient for ensuring EVV compliance.

This guidance adds additional clarity to previous guidance available on the CMS resource pages:

New! Minimizing Trauma and Maximizing Treatment for Migrant Children

Below are resources provided by the National Council for Behavioral Health, one of the national organizations of which CMHA and CMHA members are also members.

Left unaddressed, the impacts of trauma can be far-reaching. That’s especially true for migrant children, many of whom experience trauma at a young age. “Migrant children are more vulnerable because of their inherent environmental situation. Some migrant children are leaving areas with volatile political strife, poverty, and community or even domestic violence,” said Linda Henderson-Smith, director of children and trauma-informed services for the National Council. Read more.

The demand for behavioral health care knows no boundaries. Every day, we are connecting vulnerable populations – like migrant families and their children – to the care they deserve. With this in mind, we've put together a collection of external resources to help you maximize your impact in your community. We've provided an extensive list of resources at on our BH365 blog. State Legislative Update:

New! Shirkey: There Will Be No Government Shutdown

Senate Majority Leader Mike Shirkey (R-ClarkLake) told WJR radio this week there will be no government shutdown because "there's no reason for it." Gov. Gretchen Whitmer suggested Monday that a continuation budget be prepared in case budget negotiations go beyond Oct. 1, but Shirkey told radio show host Frank Beckmann that legislative leaders are making "good progress on the budget and some creative ways to address roads."

He said he's been in continuous contact with Whitmer throughout the summer and expects to come out with a framework of a deal in two weeks. Shirkey is predicting a "busy September" as legislators fill in the details of the budget, but "that's OK."

Shirkey didn’t provide a lot of details about what he’s looking at, but here are some other highlights:

- He will suggest using additional General Fund money for roads. Like the 2015 deal that ultimately steered $600 million from the General Fund for roads, Shirkey said the cap will be lifted off that and more will go to the roads.

He conceded that future legislatures will be put in the position to find the necessary cuts to balance the
- Shirkey said that changes in spending priorities and re-evaluating cash flows will free up north of $1 billion.

- Once the spending priorities and the cash flow issues are addressed, Shirkey said some new revenue can be discussed but it won’t be anything close to the 45-cent-a-gallon gas tax increase Whitmer initially proposed.

Federal Update:

New! Bill Expands Access to Telehealth for Mental Illness, Substance Use Disorder

New legislation introduced in Congress this week would expand access to telemedicine for mental health and substance use disorder treatment. The Improving Access to Remote Behavioral Health Treatment Act of 2019 (S. 2244/H.R. 4131) would amend regulations for the Ryan Haight Online Pharmacy Consumer Protection Act of 2008 and specifically name community mental health centers and addiction treatment centers as eligible sites to prescribe controlled substances via telemedicine.

The Ryan Haight Act created regulatory guardrails for safe online pharmacy practices. In the implementation of the law, the Drug Enforcement Administration’s (DEA) definition of eligible “hospital or clinic” requires that entities be “licensed by the state.” This definition excludes legitimate treatment providers that are otherwise recognized by county or state governments to prescribe controlled substances via telemedicine. While this issue only applies in a few select states, the law currently limits patient access to controlled substance via telemedicine, including access to medications for ADHD and medication-assisted treatment (MAT) for opioid use disorder.

In March, 2018, National Council member Richard Nance of the Utah County Department of Drug and Alcohol Prevention and Treatment testified before the House Energy and Commerce Committee about the impact the current regulations have on rural providers who are unable to offer MAT via telemedicine. Nance shared that in the frontier areas of Utah, such as the town of Bluff, “it can take up to ten hours round-trip including an overnight stay,” for an addiction provider to travel to see a patient in need of MAT.

The Improving Access to Remote Behavioral Health Treatment Act is a longstanding priority for the National Council and one we are excited to see reintroduced in the 116th Congress. The bill sponsors include: Senator Pat Roberts (R-KS) and Representatives Doris Matsui (D-CA), Susan Brooks (R-IN), Tom O’Halleran (D-AZ), Ann Kuster (D-NH) and Rob Wittman (R-VA). The National Council thanks these legislators for their leadership on this important issue and looks forward to working with them to see this bill through to passage.

New! The Addiction-Trauma Connection: Spirals of Recovery and Healing Conference

Featuring: Stephanie S. Covington, PhD, Institute for Relational Development/Center for Gender and Justice

About the Conference: With the increased awareness of the impact of trauma on women’s lives, social service providers are beginning to consider what this means in their specific settings. There is a growing evidence-base documenting the impact of child neglect and abuse (as well as other forms of trauma) on health, mental health and behavior. While research and clinical experience indicate a high incidence of trauma and co-occurring disorders in women’s lives, community professionals often struggle with the realities of providing effective, integrated, and trauma-based services. This two-day training provides the definitions of trauma informed, trauma responsive, and trauma specific: the three levels of response needed for comprehensive addiction treatment services. It also discusses the specifics of becoming gender-responsive and trauma-sensitive, as well as offers recommendations for interventions for women. It focuses on the three core elements that both staff and clients need: an understanding of what trauma is, its process, and its impact on both the inner self (thoughts, feelings, beliefs, values) and the outer self (behavior and relationships). In addition, it provides a discussion and demonstration of interventions based on several gender-specific curricula (including Helping Women Recover, Beyond Trauma, Beyond Anger and Violence, and Voices). Examples of coping skills, grounding exercises, and interactive exercises are provided that can be incorporated into work with women in a variety of settings.
